

COMPUTER SCIENCE BRUNEL PHD SYMPOSIUM (CSBPS 2018)

Friday, 27th of April 2018

Brunel University London

207/208 Wilfred Brown
Building

The PhD Symposium to be held at Brunel University London provides Ph.D. candidates in Computer Science with a chance to present and discuss their research with experienced and senior researchers.

It also provides them with the opportunity to share their research with their peers and to gain constructive feedback about their already completed or, more importantly, planned research work.

The PhD Symposium will be a full day inclusive of a Keynote Speaker, Experienced Panel, Research Presentations and feedback sessions.

PhD candidates are invited to submit an Extended Abstract of 1000 words through 'EasyChair'. Once registered, the Call For Papers (CFP) with submission guidelines can be accessed. Papers will be peer reviewed and later invited for presentation.
