

Labor Relations and Law in Southeast Asia: Compensation, Benefits & Productivity

ICLRL 2019

International Conference in LABOR RELATIONS & LAW

Call for Session Proposals / Call for Papers

Date: April 25 – 27, 2019

Additional Activities: April 22 – April 28, 2019

Conference Venue: Ton Duc Thang University

Address: 19 Nguyen Huu Tho Street,
Tan Phong Ward, District 7, Ho Chi Minh City, Vietnam

Conference Fees: $185 international ($120 early), $45 low-middle economies* ($35 early), $25 students ($15 early)

The International Conference in Labor Relations and Law (ICLRL 2019) is hosted by Ton Duc Thang University's Faculties of Labor Relations & Trade Unions and Law as a shared mission to foster scholarship in the region. ICLRL 2019 provides a forum for university academics, researchers and professionals around the world to share research and new findings in the fields of labor studies and allied subjects pertaining to the Southeast Asian context.

T H E M E S

Productivity in Southeast Asia

Labor Law in Southeast Asia

Labor research in Southeast Asia

Minimum wage policy and law

Conditions of casual workers in Asia

New influences on worker motivation

Regional culture: an asset in labor relations

Up-to-date information from developing economies

Economic growth and human resource practices and law

Negotiation strategies between business and the trade union

Labor and law in transitional and mixed economic systems

Organizational challenges arising from labor practices

Compensation and benefits in Southeast Asia

CSR's relation to compensation and benefits

W E B S I T E <https://ICLRL2019.weebly.com/>

Important Dates

- Abstracts & Session Proposals due: November 15, 2018 (Notification by December 15)
- Conference papers due: February 15, 2019
- Early registration and payment: February 15, 2019
- Conference dates: April 25 – 27, 2019
- Full conference: April 22 – 28, 2019
- Special-issue papers due: July 15, 2019.*

Conference Program Chair: Daniel S. Helman

Correspondence: ICLRL2019@gmail.com

I N F O

Special session proposals—on the above or related themes—are welcome. See the website for more details.

There are two categories of regular session oral presentation at ICLRL 2019: short and long (15 minutes / 30 minutes).

Those wishing to give a short talk should submit an abstract and a short paper (2000 words).

Those wishing to give a long talk should submit an abstract and a long paper (7000-9000 words).

*All participants in ICLRL 2019 are invited to submit a long paper (7000-9000 words) due approximately two months after the conference for consideration in a Contributions volume which will undergo appropriate peer-review for publication. An official proposal is pending.

For a list of Keynote Speakers, please see the conference website.

Note also that the formal language of the conference is English with some interpretation and informal opportunities in other languages.

*http://www.un.org/en/development/desa/policy/wesp/wesp_current/2014wesp_country_classification.pdf

Fees listed are US$