About the Conference

Information technology and Data Sciences are one of the fastest growing and highest priority domains in modern era. The market place continues to be pushed forward by proliferation of new tools and technologies, as well as increased adoption of them by all organizations. The purpose of this conference is to bring together academicians, researchers and industry experts to deliberate upon the contemporary issues & challenges faced by the I.T Industry. The researchers will get an opportunity to showcase their work in deep learning, data sciences including machine learning, artificial intelligence, computer vision, business analytics and other related areas. To further, add a kaleidoscopic view on the same, Institute of Management Studies (IMS), Lal Quan, Ghaziabad, is organizing an International Conference on "Emerging Trends in Information Technology and Data Science" (INCETITDS-20) on July 04th, 2020, in association with IETE New Delhi & PHD Chamber of Commerce and Industry.

Join us on July 04th, 2020 (online via google meet) where the contributor will explore and share their latest research contributions, future visions in the field of I.T, Data science and their impact on industry.
