Connecting Global Knowledge and Understanding in Applied Science

The International Symposium on Applied Science (ISAS 2019) aims to bring together researchers from different countries and to promote a synergy collaborated research with the creation and exchange of ideas related to the applied science field.

We are looking forward to meeting you at ISAS 2019 in Vietnam!

The symposium program focuses on both fundamental and application researches in areas related to the applied science field. It will cover aspects of biomedical engineering, engineering physics, computational physics, engineering mechanics and applied mathematics. We welcome technical papers providing novel insights.

Abstract submission is due to Apr. 09th, 2019. Full submission is due to Jun. 09th, 2019. The accepted manuscript (peer-reviewed) will be a publication in Vietnam Journal of Science and Technology (ISSN No. 2525-2518) and Journal of Science and Technology Development (ISSN No. 1859-0128).
