The college now offers five full-time B. Tech. degree courses and five full-time M. Tech degree courses.

ABOUT THE CONFERENCE

Civil engineering is the oldest of the main branches of engineering. Civil engineers use their knowledge to plan, supervise, and construct projects such as roads, airports, bridges, canals, tunnels, pipelines, offshore platforms, hydraulic structures, irrigation, and wastewater systems. They also collaborate with architects to design and construct various types of buildings. Civil engineers try to design their structures to be safe, functional, economical, and durable. They use their expertise to minimise environmental impact due to constructional activities. Hence it is imperative that the incremental steps occurring in the above fields be discussed and debated on a single platform so that future research can be streamlined and sharpened to solve the socially relevant complex problems. It is expected that this conference will promote scientific information interchange between researchers, developers, engineers, students, and practitioners working in and around the world.

Authors are invited to submit papers resulting from their original works in topics related to, but not limited to the following;

- Structural Engineering and Materials
- Geotechnical Engineering
- Traffic and Transportation Engineering
- Hydraulics and Water Resources Engineering
- Environmental Engineering and Sustainable development
- Geoinformatics
- Computer Applications in Civil Engineering
