Solidarity in Diversity

Highlighting Marginal Voices in Academia, Practice and Society

Bringing together scholars, practitioners and community members to consider the significant ways social transformations are impacting the African diaspora around the world.

Program

Monday 19 July 2021

Morning Masterclass

Afternoon Debate (Oxford Union Style)

Evening Keynote Lecture

Tuesday 20 & Wednesday 21 July 2021

Academic Panels Days

Thursday 22 & Friday 23 July 2021

Practitioner and Community Panels Days

The hybrid program includes both virtual and in-person events The masterclass will be held in-person and also be open to virtual participants. The keynote lecture, debate and academic and practitioner panels will be held virtually.

africanstudiesgroup.com.au

Registration

Registrations open on Monday 12 April. A nominal solidarity fee will be charged for participation.

Ticket Type	Early Bird / Full
Student	$10 / $15
Early career researcher	$10 / $15
Community member	$10 / $15
Established academic	$15 / $20
Community member	$15 / $20
Policymakers & practitioners	$15 / $20

A number of scholarships are available for students and community members who wish to attend the conference. For more information and to apply, please contact africanstudiesgroup@gmail.com

AFRICAN STUDIES GROUP
UNIMELB

THE UNIVERSITY OF MELBOURNE

Solidarity in Diversity

Highlighting Marginal Voices in Academia, Practice and Society

19 - 23 July 2021
Online and at the University of Melbourne

afrianstudiesgroup.com.au africanstudiesgroup@gmail.com

Call for Papers

Abstracts of up to 300 words from researchers, practitioners and community members are invited around the following themes:

- Inclusion
  What is inclusion? Inclusion to what?

- Power
  Who has the power to include?

- Solidarity
  What is the criteria for inclusion?

Papers will be presented remotely as the panels will be held virtually.

A prize of AU$300 will be awarded to the best student paper presented at the conference.

Submissions close at 11.59 AEDT on Friday 2 April 2021.

Submit your paper via *****